Dave Ennis & Executive Committee New Mexico Geological Society 801 Leroy Place Socorro, NM 87801

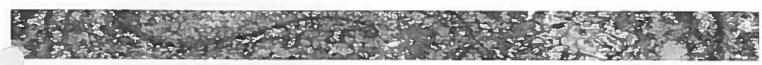

Enclosed is the invoice for formatting the 2016 NMGS 67th Fall Field Conference Guidebook. After discussing this with Ginger McLemore, I am requesting additional compensation due to the following reasons:

- The length of the volume (512 p),
- The delays in getting the road logs and final papers to me (last road logs were ready ~June 18th) required working during my Alaskan vacation as well as putting in 12-14 hour days during the last two weeks before it was due to the printer,
- One paper (24 p. long), which was later withdrawn, I had to format twice to try to maximize the image size and minimize the impact on the page count. Despite my efforts, the paper was pulled by the author,
- All the road logs required a lot of additional work, in particular, both the East Pre-Trip and the Day 1 Road Logs (merging Excel and Word files, merging several Word files, renumbering and rearranging stops, adding figures after page layout, etc.), and
- Most of the field trip editors as well as the authors did not follow the instructions on preparation of figures and photographs. I had to go into almost every image and fix them, including converting 48 dpi images into something useable for the printer.

I believe that the extra funds I am requesting is a reasonable amount, but I am more than willing to discuss it with the committee.

Sincerely,

Dana Ulmer-Scholle

NMGS Webmaster Report

Adam Read 9-September-2016

There isn't much to report since June regarding the website.

- The Fall Field Conference online registration worked well again this year.
- The new guidebook was posted, including papers, abstracts, repository data, and road log summaries.
- Papers from the 2014 guidebook were made publically accessible (following 2 year embargo).
- I retooled the code to randomize presentation of sidebar content so that in the event that we have more than can fit "above the fold", the content will rotate with every page load.

Please send me photos from the 2016 FFC to post on the site and use for banner graphics.
